Keep tally marks in the space below. Every time you read for 20 minutes, put a mark. I'd love to see this in August and count up your tally groups of 5!

READING SUGGESTIONS AND HYPERLINKS:

There are a lot of classics on this list, which I hope you enjoy!

These are the latest and greatest in children's literature. When you scroll down, you will see several categories. Be sure to check out the children's choices and the teachers' choices for 2020. I like this list because you can differentiate by age and reading level: Beginning Readers (Grades K–2, Ages 5–8), Young Readers (Grades 3–4, Ages 8–10) and Advanced Readers (Grades 5–6, Ages 10–12). The Advanced readers may make good read alouds with an adult, but you will have to watch content.
